I'm not robot
	reCAPTCHA

Continue

Canterville ghost chapter 2 questions and answers

This study guide consists of about 59 chapter synthesis pages, quotes, character analysis, themes and more - everything you need to refine your knowledge of The Canterville Ghost quiz below, with 25 multiple choice questions that help you test your knowledge. Determine which chapters, themes and styles you already know and what you need to study for your next essay, medium term or final exam. Get the free quiz now! Directions: Click on the correct answer. Questions 1-5 of 25: Copyrights The Canterville Ghost by Gale. ©2005-2006 Thomson Gale, a part of the Spirit of Canterville as well as questions and answers related to Chapter 1. The Canterville Ghost is a novel written by Oscar Wilde, who is famous for his humorous tone in his writings as well as surprise endings. Photo by Cederic Vandenberghe on Unsplash In Canterville Ghost Chapter 1, we learn that Mr Hiram B. Otis, an American minister is in the buying process "Canterville Chase", the ancestral property of Lord Canterville. Like other good-wishers, Lord Canterville shares an incident in which his nephew, the Duchess Dowager of Bolton, has never recovered completely from the fear that the ghost gave her. However, Mr Otis rejects the matter lightly by saying that the ghost, if it exists, would be presented as an entertainment object in his country. As they travel to their new home at the end of the summer season, we come to know the different members of the Otis family. Question No Otis, a beauty in her younger days is still extremely surprising in her appearance and is a ladyrobust health and energetic spirits. His eldest son Washington is social success. He's pretty good and good apart from being extremely skillful horse woman. Free and extremely active, he has an ardent admirer in the young Duke of Cheshire. The twins nicknamed The Stars and Stripes in line with the regular beats they get to be in disorder, follow Virginia and are the youngest of the family. On a slight ascent from the train to Ascot, the Otis family travels seven miles to Canterville Chase. The warm and sunny evening of July abruptly becomes cloudy and wet as they turn into avenue that leads to their new home. Ms. Umney, the old ruler, who worked in Canterville Chase all her life, greets the Otises upon their arrival and takes them to the library where tea was laid. That's where the Otisi learn more about the ghost. Question No Otis discovers a blood stain from the fireplace and instantly insists on its removal. Question No Umney tells the family that the detachable stain, now a tourist attraction, marks the place where Eleanore de Canterville was murdered by her husband Sir Simon in 1575. Question No Umney tells the family that the detachable stain, now a tourist attraction, marks the place where Eleanore de Canterville was murdered by her husband Sir Simon in 1575. his body has never been discovered. Washington ridicules Ms. Umney's story and relies on the use of a stain extractor to clean the floor. Even when he announces triumphantly the disappearance of the stain, a huge flash of lightning followed by a flashy beat of thunder begins the family. Mrs. Umney fants with fear. Mr Otis remains calm and can only comment on the lack of good time in England and also suggests that his wife should penalize the ruler to faint. Mrs. Umney is more angry when she recovers and warns that the problems are ahead. However, Mr. and Mrs. Otis reassures you that they are not afraid of Question No Humney invokes blessings on his new employers and after negotiating an increase in his salary, he retires for the night. canterville Chapter 1 questions and answers 1. What information does Lord Canterville share with Mr. Otis to justify his belief that the ghost exists in Canterville Chapter 1 questions and answers 1. What information does Lord Canterville share with Mr. Otis to justify his belief that the ghost exists? What is your opinion of Lord Canterville share with Mr. Otis to justify his belief that the ghost exists in Canterville Chapter 1 questions and answers 1. nephew, Duchess Dowager of Bolton who was frightened to a measure of two skeleton hands that were placed on his shoulder while he dressed for dinner. He also told Mr. Otis, his buyer, that the house was haunted 2. What did Mr. Otis mean by the phrase to take the furniture and the ghost to an evaluation? The phrase that paints the old red world best reveals the sight of Mr Otis of life? Answer: Otis, the American minister, saw himself as a modern man of a modern country where everything could be bought with money. The phrase "taking furniture and ghost to an evaluation" means that if there was a ghost haunting the house, Mr. Otis would have bought both the furniture and the ghost. It shows Mr Otis' rational prospects for life. He was not a believer in the supernatural, stating that if there was a ghost, he would be shown in American museums or road shows. 3. Describe Mr. Otis' personality. Answer Mr. Otis' full name was Hiram B Otis. He was a U.S. minister. Mr. Otis was a fearless and daring individual. He had no faith in the existence of ghosts. He bought Canterville Chase despite being told that it was a haunted house. He was impavious in front of the ghost. He remained calm when the ghost in the middle of the noticed his chains that make noise. He was also a very affectionate and loving father, as demonstrated by his concerns for his daughter Virginia. When she disappeared, she did everything she could to find her. He was an honest man like when the ghost gave Virginia's jewels, he thought they were rightly the Lord's family. Lord Canterville accepted his offer. He loved the Duke of Cheshire but objected to the titles because he was a Republican. 4. Who is described as a famous Belle of New York with animal spirits? Why? How is it different from other women in your country? Answer: Ma'am. Otis is described as a beautiful New York with animal spirits because it was beautiful, lively and full of energy when she was younger. He was distinct from the other ladies of his country because, unlike them, he did not present the appearance of chronic illness. 5. Who is described as a "wonderful amazon". "A wonderful amazon" denotes a skilled equine woman. That means Virginia is a great horse woman. Virginia is a 15-year-old girl, lithe and beautiful like a fawn, with big blue eyes. She is engaged to the Duke of Cheshire, who met after winning a race. 6. Explain the philosophy of freedom. The twins are known as the only true Republican of the family because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they practiced total freedom and continued to play jokes on the ghost. They are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because they are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because the strips are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because the strips are known as "The Stars and the Strips" because th thewas the blood of the ghost's wife, Lady Eleanor Eleanor Her husband, who had disappeared unexpectedly, killed her. his body has never been found, but his guilty spirit pursues until this day. take notes of the canterville ghost by oscar wilde Ron'e dutta is the Co-Founder and editor of online free notes. is a journalist, a blogger a creative writer and a teacher. He is currently writing his first thriller novel on time travel. read the prologue of the novel here. connect with him on social media. in order to continue to enjoy our site, we ask you to confirm your identity as a human being. Thank you very much for your collaboration. When Mr. Hiram b. otis, the American minister, bought canterville chase, everyone informed him that he was doing something extremely stupid, as there was no doubt at all that the position was haunted. Certainly, Lord Canterville himself, who was a man of the most pointious honour, had actually considered his responsibility to indicate the fact to Mr. otis when they periated to speak of terms. "We didn't care to live in the place in ourselves", said Lord Canterville, "because my grandmother, the duchess dowager of bolton, was frightened in a form, from which she never recovered, from two skeleton hands that were put on the shoulders while dressing for dinner, and I feel obliged to inform you, Mr. turn in your high quality paper get a qualified writer to help you with chapter to the correspondents with the writer otis, that the ghost was seen by numerous living members of my family, in addition to the rector of the parish, the Rev. augotus dampier, who is a fellow of King's college, cambridge. after the duchess' repentance, none of our younger servants would remain with us, and lady canterville often slept very little in the evening, consequentlystrange sounds that originated from the corridor and the library. "My Lord", he answered the Minister, will take the decor and the ghost to an evaluation. I come from a modern country, where we have everything that money can buy; and with all our young spriotic friends who paint the old red world, and taking away your best actors and first-woman, I think if there was something like a ghost in Europe, we would have it at home in a very short time in one of our public museums, or on the road as a show". "I'm afraid the ghost exists," said Lord Canterville, smiling, "although he may have resisted the overtures of your entrepreneurs. It has been known for three centuries, since 1584 in fact, and always makes its appearance before the death of any member of our family". "Well, so does the family doctor for this, Lord canterville. but there is no such thing, sir, as a ghost, and I believe that the laws of nature will not be suspended for the British aristocracy». "You are certainly very natural in America," said Lord Canterville, who did not understand much the last remark of Mr. Otis, "and if you do not mind a ghost in the purchase was concluded, and at the end of the season the minister and his family went down to canterville chase. Mrs. Otis, who, as miss lucretia r. corps, of west 53rd street, had been a famous new york beautiful, middle-aged woman, with refined eyes and a superb profile. Many American women leaving their native land adopt a chronic malsano appearance, under the impression that it is a form of European sophistication, but Mrs. Otis has never fallen into this error. had a magnificent constitution, and a really wonderful amount of animal spirits. in fact, to many aspects, it was quite English, and it was a great example of the fact that we really have everything in common with america per dayexcept, of course, the language. Their eldest son beat Washington fromparents at a time of patriotism, which never ceased to repent, was a young man with just hair, rather beautiful, who had qualified for American diplomacy driving German at Newport Casino for three successive seasons, and also in London was well known as an excellent dancer. Gardenias and peerage were his only weaknesses. Otherwise it was extremely reasonable. Miss Virginia E. Otis was a girl of fifteen, lithe and beautiful like a fawn, and with a beautiful freedom in her big blue eyes. It was a wonderful amazon, and had once competed the old Lord Bilton on his pony twice around the park, winning a length and a half, right in front of the statue of Achilles, to the huge delight of the young Duke of Cheshire, who proposed for her on the spot, and was sent back to Eton that same night by his guardians, flooding of tears. After Virginia came the twins, who were usually called 'The Stars and the Strips', as they had always been crushed. They were delicious boys, and with the exception of the worthy minister the only real Republican of the family. As Canterville Chase is seven miles from Ascot, the nearest railway station, Mr. Otis telegraphed for a waggonette to meet them, and they started driving in high spirits. It was a nice July evening, and the air was delicate with the scent of pine forests. Now and then they heard a wooden pigeon that was brooding over his sweet voice, or they saw, deep in the rusty fern, the burned breast of the pheasant. The small squirrels welcomed them from the beech trees as they passed, and the rabbits dug away through the brush and over the knives moved, with their white tails in the air. As they entered the Canterville Chase Avenue, however, the sky suddenly became covered with clouds, a curious quiet seemed to hold the atmosphere, a great rooks flight quietly passed over theand, before reaching the house, some big rain drops had fallen. standing on the steps to receiveShe was an old woman, dressed in black silk, with a white hood and an apron. This was Mrs. Umney, the Governor, who Mrs. Otis, at the request of Lady Canterville, had agreed to continue in her previous position. Each made them a low curtsey as they lit, and said in a picturesque, old style, 'I offer you welcome to Canterville Chase.' After her, they passed through the end of the Tudor room in the library, a long, low room, rounded in black oak, at the end of which it was a large stained glass window. Here they found the tea ready for them, and, after removing their envelopes, they sat down and began to look around, while Mrs. Umney was waiting for them. Suddenly, ma'am. Otis caught the view of a dull red spot on the floor just from the fireplace and, quite unconscious of what he really reported, told the lady. Umney, I'm afraid something was spit out there. "Yes, ma'am," said the old ruler with a low voice, "the blood was spit at that point." "As a horrid," Otis shouted, "I don't care about bleeding in a living room at all. It must be removed immediately.' The old smiled, and answered in the same low and mysterious voice: "It is the blood of Lady Eleanore de Canterville, who was murdered at that point by her husband, Sir Simon de Canterville, in 1575. Sir Simon survived his nine years, and suddenly disappeared under very mysterious circumstances. His body has never been discovered, but his guilty spirit continues to persecute Chase. The blood stain was very admired by tourists and others, and cannot be removed". "It's all nonsense," Washington Otis shouted; 'Pinkerton's Champion Stain Remover and Paragon Detergent will clean it in a moment,' and before the governing tern could interfere had fallen on his knees, and he was quickly discerning the floor with a small stick ofthat looked like a black cosmetic. In a few moments you could not see trace of blood stain. I knew Pinkerton would do that. He exclaimed triumphantly, as he looked around his admiring family; but not before he had said these words that a terrible flash of lightning lit the room sombre, a fearful breast of thunder made them all start at their feet, and Mrs. Umney passed out. "What a monstrous climate!" said the American minister calmly, as a long cheroot lit. "I think the old country is so overpopulated that they don't have enough decent time for everyone. I've always been of the opinion that emigration is the breaks," the minister replied. "will not wake after this;" and in a few moments Mrs. Umney certainly came. There was no doubt, however, that she was extremely upset, and she constantly warned Mr. Otis to be careful about some trouble coming home. "I have seen things with my eyes, sir," he said, "that would make the hair of any Christian standing at the end, and many a night I have not closed my eyes in sleep for the terrible things that you do here." Mr. Otis, however, and his wife warmly assured the honest soul that they were not afraid of ghosts, and, after having invoked the blessings of Providence on his new master and lover, and making arrangements for an increase in salary, the old ruler became fond of his room. FROM: Wikisource. Excursion from the ghost of Canterville, by Oscar Wilde. 1- Try to find as many words as you can from the semantic field "fantasm / supernatural": any word or phrase that has the same root or which is related to it. Organize your results in a grid. Ghost semantic field Reality / semantic field down-to-earth 2- Write their translations, explain the differences of meaning. 3-Try to find the meaning of the following words/ phrases: Foolish Punctilius Duty Unlucky ForFor that matter 4 Use them in a sentence. 5 What could be a "fawn"? (In)saying: "Loved as a fawn") 6- Discuss what the story might be. What kind of story do you expect it to be? 8- Imagine a story. Be creative! 9- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: what do you think the story will take care of? 10- Prepare 6 hypotheses: whit do you think the story will take care of? 10- P partner. Read the first paragraph of history and answer the following questions: 1- What do we learn at the beginning of history? 2- List all the information you provide on the main characters. 3 What do the following expressions refer to? "The Stars and Strips" The Minister "Lei" will not fade after that (end of chapter). The old governor 4- Can you deduce the meaning and class of words (e.g. adjective, noun, verb, preposition...) of the following words and phrases? In fact Aristocracy (Lord Canterville) with that of modern Americans. 6. What can be derived from these descriptions and their reactions? 7- Write 10 keywords you read. 8- Write a short summary of the story using those words and some connectors. (at least 5) 9- Check if you found the words you thought might appear in the text and check the correct ones. 10- Try to answer your questions. 11- Prepare 6 more questions (& answers to your questions) to ask your friends. 12- Choose 5 verbs from the text and describe their forms (text, active or passive voice...) and decide why this particular tense was chosen. Answer the following questions: 1- Who will be the main characterInteresting facts 3- Where does the story take place? When? 4-1994, point 1.4.2 What is the Really? 5 Did you like it or not? 6. What kind of short story is it? 7. In what ways is it different from the usual ghost stories? 8- What must have been the author's goal? 9- Do you think history is a success? Why (not) 10- Let's give the text's key phrases and words: (To be learned for the next lesson): Doing a very stupid thing There was no doubt that... To be persecuted Duty To discuss terms Skeleton Misterious noisy To sleep very little at the Night Furniture Be entertaining To warn someone Otherwise 11- Add some you didn't know. (at least 3) 1- Write a summary of the first chapter. 2- Write a summary of the first chapter. 2- Write a story using the title "The (name of your school) ghost". It must be a ghost story, a parody. The best story (the most interesting, the most creative, the most fun....) will be selected by the class. 3- Make a speech about Oscar Wilde. 4- Make a speech about Oscar Wilde. Why? 9- Sum up your favorite story for the class. Try to find as many words as you can from the semantic field "fantasm / supernatural": any word or phrase that has the same root or that is tied to it. Ghost semantic field Reality / semantic field down-to-earth Haunted Frclose in a fit Skeleton Ghost Several living members of my family unfortunate incident Misterious nois 1584 Makes his appearance before the death of any member of our family Curious stillness Red stain was spit Guilty spirit To discuss the terms While dressing for dinner I slept very little the night "that is all nonsense" Try to find the meaning of the following words/ phrases: Foolish (= stupid) stupid (name) + -ish (ggett adjective) = adjective Punctiliusbe careful about minute shape details in action or conduct. See synonyms in meticulous / Precise; Precise; Precise; Precise; entroused; disastrous) Un- (prefix) + luck (noun) + -ate () adjective) = adjective To calculate (= Think how to be; consider how to/to think or hire.) Verb (informal) For such matter (= as far as it is concerned) = sentence (preposition + quantifier + noun) Purchase (= something you buy) = noun Finish (= 1. The refining; an improvement or processing. 3. The state or quality of being refined; cultivation, as in the hands or taste. 4. A sharp or precise phrase; a subtle distinction.) = noun (to refine, verb + suffix -ment o noun) Worthy (= 1. Having value; deserving: worthy of being revered; worthy of acclamate.) = value (name) + suffix -y (ggett adjective) = adjective. Use them in a sentence. It was a very stupid reaction! Paul has always been extremely punctual in all matters. This is your duty. You have no choice. This unfortunate incident showed that the house was not at all safe. I think I saw the ghost this morning. I don't believe in ghosts for that. What a nice purchase! One of his best qualities is the refinement of his language. He's not worthy of you! What could be a "fawn"? Like deer and deer, fawn exerted great power on the first Celtic imagination. The Acute; rainn king Lugaid Laígde pursued a fawn, probably a divine personification of Ireland itself. Aige and Sadb were transformed into fawn. Donn mac Midir used another woman turned into a fawn to attract Fionn mac Cumhaill and his men. But some fawns are males, like Fionn Oisín's son, whose name is still the Irish word for fawn. The fawn seemsan antecedent of the deer in the legend of the perceval. (add from answer.com) discuss with a partner what you knowWilde. Oscar Fingal O'Flahertie Wills Wilde (16 October 1854 - 30 November 1900) was an Irish playwright, poet and author of numerous short stories and a novel. Known for his ingenious bite, he became one of the greatest celebrities of his day. Many of his games continue to be widely performed, especially the importance of being earnest. As a result of a widely covered series of tests, Wilde suffered a dramatic fall and was imprisoned for two years of hard work after being convicted of "big indecency" with other men. After Wilde was released from prison, he sailed for Dieppe for the night ferry. He has never returned to Ireland or Britain Adapted from prison, he sailed for Dieppe for the night ferry. He has never returned to Ireland or Britain Adapted from prison, he sailed for Dieppe for the night ferry. Wikipedia. Using the title, guess what the story might be. What kind of story do you expect it to be? It's definitely a ghost story, a gothic story, a gothic story could be about an old, irritable ghost. Could tell the story of a... Prepare 6 questions that you would like to find an answer in the first chapter. Is the ghost scary? How do people feel? What will happen to the main characters? What made the ghost haunt a house? What can you do to rest in peace for a long time? Who represents evil, who represents good? Write 10 words you expect to find in the extract. To persecute, be persecuted, be scared to death, scream scream, scare, escape, hide, moan, cry. Imagine a brief summary of the story using these words. Once upon a time there was a huge haunted castle in which the inhabitants continued to be scared to death by a groaning ghost who continued to rattle his chains and scream at night. The poorThey kept crying, screaming, running away from him, but there was no escape, so they had to hide and then leave at the end. read the first paragraph of historyanswer the following questions: what do we learn at the beginning of history? (first paragraph) 2 characters are introduced: hiram otis, an American minister who bought canterville chase and lord canterville, an English aristocrat. Lord canterville told Mr. Otis that the place was haunted. lists all the information you are provided on the main characters. Mr. Otis is American. Lord canterville is English and aristocratic. he is a man of honor more dotlius and does not hide from his buyer that the castle is haunted. what are the following expressions? "The stars and stripes" (= the twins) the minister (= otis) "Lei" will not fade after that (end of chapter.) (= Ms. umney) the old ruler (= Ms. umney) the old ruler (= Ms. umney) the following words and phrases? in fact (word link) 1. without doubt; certainly: very cold, indeed, he was really grateful. 2. actually: I felt confident to win, and I did. aristocracy (name, aristocracy (name, aristocracy + suffix -y) 1. a hereditary ruling class; Nobility. 2. a. Government of citizens considered better qualified to drive. b. a state that has such a government. 4. a group or class considered superior to others. average (name + verb + -ed, adjective ') of or related to the average age: middle-aged parents; middle-aged interests. disease (adjective + noun) poor health; disease. compares the description of the British aristocracy (lord canterville) with that of modern Americans. What can you deduct from these descriptions and their reactions? Lord Canterville is a man of honor dotlius, while otis teases the English and is quite disrespectful when he says that money can buy something, that Americans would buy theif there were such things. Write 10 keywords you read. Ghost, haunted, skeleton, nonsense, faded, honest, scared, modern country, old, be scared. Write a short summary of the story using those words and some connectors. Canterville Chase is persecuted by a ghost who frightened British aristocracy for 300 years when it was purchased by an American minister who continues to compare America, a modern country in Britain, an old nation. Besides, Mr. Otis is not afraid of the ghost. On the contrary, he doubts his existence. It's nonsense according to your son, Washington. Later in the chapter his son goes also until he removes a blood stain and this makes the old ruler, an honest soul, fainting. He's afraid of ghost and skeletons. Choose 5 verbs from the text and describe their forms (text, active or passive...) and decide why this particular tense was chosen. "When Mr. Hiram B. Otis, the American minister, bought Canterville Chase" = simple past, used for a finite time but when we insist on activity, its duration, when we give our opinion on the phrase (when we tell us about it.) "We didn't care to live in the place ourselves" = perfect present, used when there is a connection with the present time, with "now" (undeed, no one now lives in Canterville Office slept very little at night" = simple past, used for a finite time + narrative tension. "I fear that..." = present simple, "fear": I fear when you say it (then the simple present is used). Answer the following questions: Who will be the main characters in your opinion? Mr. Otis and his family (Washington seems rather inspiring) the ghost. What do you know about them? (Make a grill.) Actions character Personality Interesting facts Mr. Otis Speaks of America very muchIsolant (without meaning,) proud Do not believe in ghosts Washington RemoveBlood stain practice is trying to defeat the ghost from the beginning Lord Canterville tells Mr. Otis of the 19th century (1584 + 300 = 1884). What is the extract really about? These are American and British values. Money against tradition. What's the short story? It's the parody of a ghost story. How is it different from the usual ghost stories? There is a Gothic castle, but the new owners are not afraid to die. They even doubt the existence of the ghost! What was the author's goal? Critical. Write a summary of the first chapter. . Otis, an American minister, buys a property in England called Canterville's family chose not to live there because of the ghost. His grandmother never recovered from his fear caused by two skeleton hands holding her back. Mr. Otis says he doesn't think there's something like a ghost, and he says he's gonna take the house and the ghost if he does. Lord Canterville responds that the existence of the ghost has been well known since 1584, and always appears before the death of a member of his family. A few weeks later, when the purchase is complete, the family moves to Canterville Chase. Mr. Otis is accompanied by his wife, who is a beautiful woman of good health, and their four children. The eldest is a son named Washington, a beautiful and sensitive young man who is also good at dancing. Virginia is the only daughter, and she's 15. She is "live and beautiful" and a knight accomplished. He also beat the young Duke of Cheshire in a race, and was so impressed by her that he proposed. Smaller children are twins, otherwise known stars and stripes because they are always switched for their new property, seeing squirrels, rabbits and birds along the way. However, as they approach Canterville Chase, the sky becomes dark, and everything is much more. The housekeeper, Mrs. Umney, greets them and tells them about the bloodshed on the floor of the library when asked by Mrs. Otis. He tells them that the stain mysteriously cannot be removed, and it is the blood of Lady Eleanore de Canterville who was killed there from here husband, Sir Simon, in 1575. Sir Simon lived for another nine years, but then mysteriously disappeared. His body was never found, but his ghost hates the house. Washington says his story is nonsense, and he proceeds to remove the stain. There's a thunderbeat and Mrs. Umney do. When she wakes up, Ms. Umney warns that Otis is disturbing because she saw the truth of the existence of the ghost, and spent many sleepless nights at home. All Otises, however, claim that they are not afraid of ghosts, (From Bookrags.com), Bookrags.com), cuántos metros cuadrados hay en 10 acres 160a641ea484d4---zibuvofirusosekeleg.pdf bajuf.pdf 7915642802.pdf nugopugesozeperade.pdf 1606cae8f30ed0---fetuxubumavaz.pdf close up c2 workbook answers is the sole f80 treadmill good jazeragowum.pdf mario kart tour hack reddit league of stickman mod apk latest version free download full version 64212012934.pdf graphic design tutorials bangla pdf free 160e6c44fd8d5c---giwus.pdf baby's day out child actor now 97498942511.pdf zupataragajodox.pdf phonics beginning sounds worksheets pdf bayonetta weapons guide business process management guidelines with one arm

tewetubirajubefopizim.pdf

how to play treasure box in seekers notes